There is so much bad news. Political unrest is happening in our neighborhoods and across the globe. Forests are burning. Afghanistan. Haiti. COVID.

But also, good things are happening, and heroes are emerging. These bright lights become even more noticeable in dark times. Not only should we use that illumination to help guide our own pathways, but we also need to be the lanterns that help to guide others.

This is Outreach. Our extraordinary workers in the field act as those guides for people pulling themselves from extreme poverty. Our system and foundational processes are beginning to inform the most prominent players in international development. And, of course, you, the Outreach donor, inspire all of us here at headquarters and abroad with your generosity and desire to make the world a better place. The good each of us creates illuminates the way for one another.

As you read this report and reflect on the past year, you will no doubt feel the incredible resilience and resourcefulness of our community members around the world. They navigated the unprecedented challenges of the pandemic while never losing sight of the mission. The COVID-19 Report provides a detailed picture of how people adapted to and overcame the most difficult obstacles that shaped 2020.

Together, we can confidently say Outreach International did more to positively impact the world, in more places, in more ways, in this past year than at any point in its history. If you allow it, this Annual Report from Outreach will help you see the good in the world so that you can more easily be the good in the world.

Dr. Kevin W. Prine
President & CEO
WHERE WE WORK, WHAT WE DO

Outreach International is a global nonprofit that supports local leaders and community-led groups who develop lasting solutions to poverty-related issues.

Our Mission

Our Community

Our efforts and impact span the globe. In each of Outreach’s 10 partner countries, our experts facilitate life-changing community improvement projects planned and executed by the community members themselves, who work together to lift themselves out of chronic poverty and into a future defined by progress, self-reliance and prosperity.

The Hope Business

There can be no doubt that the COVID-19 pandemic has been the defining challenge of 2020 around the world. Yet even with the unprecedented hardship it created, our empowered communities were able to adapt their previously planned projects and rise to meet this challenge head on.

And you, the Outreach donor, rose to meet this challenge, as well. You raised $37,876.31 from 337 gifts for COVID-19 emergency relief and support, and by doing so, you kept Outreach in the hope business.

Here is just some of what was accomplished because of your generosity:

- The construction of hundreds of new, centrally located, public hand-washing stations throughout communities, as well as maintaining existing stations already in use.

- Communities modified components of their preexisting short-term rice loan programs in order to address needs without becoming dependent on outside relief organizations.

- Communities came together to learn how to make masks and even met via Zoom to teach program partners in other parts of the world how to make masks of their own.

- Even with delays and complications due to COVID, communities in Malawi completed their “Bucket List” to promote healthy habits and improve hygiene for all.

The COVID-19 Report details the challenges that were faced, the adjustments that were made, and recommendations on how to best move forward. Strengthening organizational structures, stepping up sanitation practices and learning to rely more on technology for communication and information gathering were all crucial elements for continued progress throughout the year.

Seeing is Believing

We envision a world where communities work together to overcome the challenges of chronic poverty. A world where positive change endures, as each new generation builds on the milestones placed by those who came before them. A world filled with opportunities created through humanity’s shared commitment to one another.

Our work together makes the prospect of a more inclusive, joyful, empowered world not just possible, but through your continued support, inevitable.

With you at our side, we can do more than hope for a better future – we can reach it.
